BACK TO SCHOOL — A steady procession of school buses deposited students at Elk Point schools on Tuesday morning, as the summer holidays come to an end for another year.

Town brief presented to NADC

The Town of Elk Point is seeking the assistance of the Northern Alberta Development Council in relaying to the provincial government the needs of northern Alberta communities severely affected by recent resource industry cutbacks.

A brief presented August 20 by Councillor Bruce Kleeberger to the NADC meeting in Bonnyville stated that communities such as Elk Point, Cold Lake, Grand Centre and Bonnyville have been hurt by "stalled growth" due to the oil industry troubles.

While all provincial residents benefit from an active, healthy primary resource industry, it is the small communities attempting to accommodate substantial anticipated growth who suffer when growth is stalled, the brief said. The mayors of these communities have attempted to organize a common front to present this issue to the government, and the brief asks that the NADC take a significant role in ensuring that this is effective.

The brief also put forth several other pertinent local issues and offered an update on development matters and on issues presented last year to the Council.

The vital need to develop a Regional Landfill site, encouragement for the Alberta Mortgage and Housing Corporation to adapt to local economic conditions, development of the Fort George and Buckingham House historic sites, development local offices for government agencies, and aid in implementation of a coordinated effort toward economic development in Elk Point were the current issues outlined in the brief.

The growth and subsequent decline of the oil industry in the Elk Point area, difficulties with last year's harvest, a significant increase in unemployment and "nervousness in some local economic sectors" were reported as matters affecting development. Progress in the form of the opening of the new library and the seniors lodge, completion of the General Municipal Plan review, and planning of highway and secondary highway upgrading and development of a nursing home were also related to the NADC.

Frankiw announces bid for council seat

Allan Frankiw has announced his candidacy for Elk Point town councillor in the municipal elections scheduled for October 20.

A production engineer with Westmin Resources, Frankiw, 29, believes he has new ideas to offer the community and points to both his youth and experience in the engineering field as definite pluses in his election bid.

Frankiw has lived in Elk Point for the last 2½ years with wife Diane and two sons. He said he plans to make Elk Point his permanent home and cited that as another reason for seeking election to town council.

"The only way to satisfy the needs of the community as I see them is to run for council and see that those needs are met," Frankiw said.

Born and raised in the Two

Hills area, Frankiw is accustomed to the way of life of small towns and enjoys the benefits such a life has to offer. He is a graduate of the University of Alberta holding a degree in electrical engineering and has worked with Westmin Resources for just over seven years.

Frankiw believes the town relies far too much on outside consultants' opinions when it comes to engineering decisions and so stresses his experience in the engineering field as a bonus to council.

"My experience would be a great asset to the town. I've gained a lot of experience with bids, tenders and contract and purchasing equipment. I'm also young with new ideas and initiative to offer to the community," Frankiw said.

Frankiw said his main concern regarding the present governing of town affairs is the priority in which money is spent. He believes more emphasis should be placed on street upgrading.

"Upgrading of our major streets with storm sewers, gutters, paving, should be a top priority."

Frankiw singled out 50th Ave. running past the hospital and library as in a particular bad state of repair.

Existing council members, including Mayor Ed Buck, have yet to announce whether or not they'll be seeking election again this fall. But Byron Mann, manager of Westmin Resources' Elk Point project, announced in mid-August he'll be after the mayor's chair.

Physiotherapist joins hospital staff

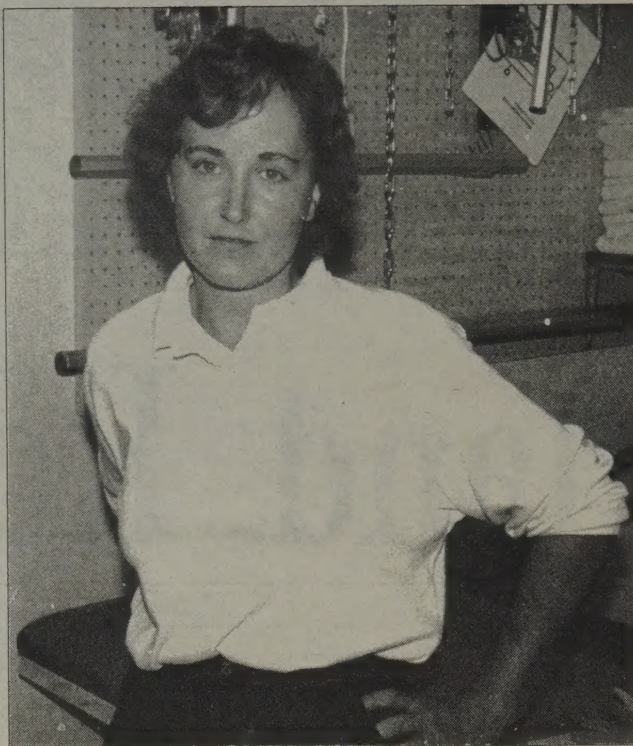

Elk Point Municipal Hospital once again has a physiotherapist on staff, after more than a year without one.

Moyra Holliday joined the staff on July 2, and said that while her patient load was small at first, "business is picking up now." In addition to a daily exercise class for the Extended Care patients, Mrs. Holliday does individual therapy with a number of the hospital patients, as well as with outpatients sent on a referral by Dr. Frank Estey and Dr. Keith McNeilly. She has found the Physiotherapy unit "Really well equipped" for a hospital of this size.

Born and raised in Edmonton, Mrs. Holliday was educated at the University of Alberta, and later worked at the University Hospital's Physiotherapy Department for two years before coming to Elk Point. She is the wife of Tim Holliday, and the daughter-in-law of Tom and Erna Holliday of Elk Point. At the present, the younger Hollidays are living in St. Paul, with Mrs. Holliday commuting to her hospital job every Monday to Thursday.

Hospital Administrator Clem Johnson is pleased with the new addition to his staff, commenting that "we are very fortunate — physiotherapists are in high demand."

NEW PHYSIOTHERAPIST — Moyra Holliday is a welcome and much needed addition to the staff of Elk Point Municipal Hospital.

Elk Point Boxing Club news

The Elk Point Boxing Club will be starting up once again for the 1986-87 season. The past two seasons have been very successful for the club with the boxers bringing home medals in the Bronze, Silver and Golden gloves, as well as the North Eastern Alberta Winter Games.

The boxers have represented our town as far away as Cardston, Alberta. Our third year of operation should produce equal success! Anyone interested in joining the boxing club should contact coach Reg Young at 943-2240 after working hours, or at work at 724-4090 or drop by the Bumper to Bumper and talk to him.

Boxing is a great way to stay in shape. Join up or just drop by and offer the boxers a few words of encouragement. Your support would be greatly appreciated.

Smith, Ronald Moneta, Brent Hicks, Wayne Smereka and Jimmy Yarmuch. Missing are Heather Poiras, Craig Campbell, Tracy Ewasiuk, Michelle Whitlock and Joely Jenner.

F.C.S.S. News

Summer is now over and the fall programs are now starting.

INFORMATION EVENING — We will be holding the Second Information Night on Tuesday, September 16 at the Community Services Centre - 7:00-9:00. There will be many clubs and organizations present to answer any questions you may have. Please remember that Everyone is Welcome.

PLAYSCHOOL — Playschool will be starting on Sept. 18. If you would like to have your three or four-year-old attend, call 724-3800.

PARENT-NURSERY — This program is for children from birth to three years and will be starting soon. For more information call Dianne Huffman at 724-4137.

WELCOME PACKAGE — Our thanks to the many businesses for contributing to the welcome package. Cheryl Demchuk, our summer newcomer is welcome to one. Call our office if you are new in Elk Point and we will be sure you receive one.

LIBRARY — The library has a section of books that F.C.S.S. provides the funding for. There is a variety of books that I hope will prove helpful to you all. They are meant to help you find solutions to any problems you may have. Problems from coping with your newborn to getting through your child's teen years, to growing old gracefully.

Perhaps you have a book that you would like to read and learn from, if so let the librarian, Doreen Mayner know and she will order it.

MEALS ON WHEELS — The meals on wheels program is a continuing program. Ray Hammond is our driver and Olga Ruzycski is our volunteer co-ordinator. Thanks to you, for all your help in running this program. If you know of someone that could benefit from this program call Olga at 724-3547.

ELKS VAN — The Van has made some interesting trips this summer. One, the Pathfinders took to a Jam-boree in Farragut State Park, Idaho, U.S.A.

Another trip was when Carolyn and Ron Onusko took some of the extended-care patients to West Edmonton Mall. They all had a marvelous time and topped the trip off with a "Big Mac".

We salute you, Carolyn and would like to say thanks for the extra care and love you give to your patients.

A "BERRY" GOOD SUMMER AT ELK POINT LIBRARY — Drew to an end last week, with Kris Ann Maas and her Elementary School-aged group enjoying a wind-up party. The giant strawberries are one of the craft projects completed this summer.

4-H team - check it out

The 4H Team - Check It Out the new 4H promotional slogan will soon be a common site throughout the province. It's here to remind 4H members and non-members alike that this is the time of year when the 4H year gets into full swing. This is the time of year when I try to get my column - 4H On the Move back into full swing as well.

It seems impossible to imagine that the summer is drawing to a close. It has been a busy summer and that might explain why it has passed so quickly.

Over the summer the Northeast Regional Council sponsored its annual Beef Heifer Show. The Myrnam Agricultural Society did a fine job of hosting this event which was even bigger than last year. The Heifer Show saw 39 members and 41 animal units compete in various showmanship, grooming, judging and conformation classes. Members also had a chance to take part in some team events where they worked together and supported the fellow team member who were drawn from various other clubs.

The day wrapped up with a special class organized by 4H members headed by Paul Kotowich, St. Paul and John Taylor of Chauvin. This class gave many of the adults in the audience a chance to demonstrate our showmanship skills. Many of us found out it's not as easy as it looks. The team of 4H members judging this class had lots of comments and suggestions for class participants.

Many of the members from the Northeast Region continued on to the Provincial Heifer Show. Results from the 10th Annual Provincial Beef Heifer Show at Bashaw showed that the Northeast Region has good reason to be proud of its representatives.

As well this summer two districts in this region hosted Open House Canada groups. Ten members from the Two Hills District and chaperone Dennis Babuik hosted a delegation from Leeds County in Ontario in early July. After a ten-day visit here the Alberta delegation returned to Ontario with their counterparts.

Members from 3 clubs on the Vermilion - Preston area also hosted an Open House Canada delegation from New Brunswick in mid-July. In early August this group of ten members and their chaperone Doris Lysons returned to stay with their New Brunswick counterparts.

This summer several 4H members travelled to various parts of Canada and the U.S. on 4H award trips chosen at Provincial Selections last May in Olds. Award trips took these members to places ranging from Langley, B.C., N.W.T., and Hinton, Alberta.

Eight members from this region participated in 4H Conservation Camp at Silver Creek Ranch in the beautiful Alberta foothills. As well over 30 members from the North East Region learned to Grow through Discovery at the 1986 4H Club Week Program. If you get an opportunity ask one of these members about these programs, I'm sure they'll have interesting stories to tell.

Many senior 4H members from the Northeast Region took part in the Leadership Through Counselling Seminar (LTCS) in early July at Battle Lake Centre. Throughout the summer these members have been busy acting as junior counsellors at various 4H camps throughout the province. Their time and energy is greatly appreciated by the campers and the 4H staff alike.

At the moment our junior (10-12 year old) camp at Moose Lake had been very successfully completed and we are anticipating equally successful intermediate (12-14 year olds) camp. This is the first time the regional council has sponsored a camp in the region for the latter age group so we hope all these campers have a great time.

Looking over this column it becomes obvious why the summer has sped by so fast. I have only mentioned just some of the highlights of this past summer.

I hope all 4H members and non-members will be keen to start Checking - Out what's ahead for the coming year. I will be trying to keep you posted with columns which will run about twice a month.

Until next time remember to "Check out the 4H team".

COMING EVENTS

SEPTEMBER 11 — Vermilion River District Council Meeting, Kitscoty School 7:30 p.m.

SEPTEMBER 15 — Deadline for district entries to Regional Project Book Competitions to reach the 4H Regional Office.

SEPTEMBER 18 — N.E. Regional 4H Council Meeting - Vermilion Provincial Building 7:30 p.m.

SEPTEMBER 30 — Deadline to return Use Respect questionnaires to the Fish & Wildlife Department in Edmonton.

NOTICE to the HEAVY EQUIPMENT INDUSTRY, TRADE OF HEAVY EQUIPMENT OPERATOR (Crane and Hoisting Division)

The Alberta Apprenticeship and Trade Certification Board is considering a recommendation for change in the Certification of Heavy Equipment Operators. These are persons who operate machines and equipment used for the lifting and placing of items and quantities of materials.

Should these changes be implemented, persons operating this type of machinery and equipment will be required to have an Alberta Journeyman Heavy Equipment Operator Certificate or be indentured as an apprentice.

Any concerns with the proposed change in the Certification Policy should be submitted, in writing, to Mr. Don Bell, Executive Director of Apprenticeship and Trade Certification, before September 30, 1986.

WHEN YOU'RE ON THE RUN ON THE ROAD...

STOP FOR SCHOOL BUSES.

The new eight light warning system on most Alberta school buses is easy to follow.

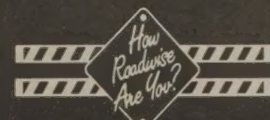

When yellow lights flash . . . slow down. When red lights flash . . . all vehicles approaching or following the bus must stop.

As an added reminder, a special red "STOP" arm swings out from the driver's side of the bus . . . remember, you must wait until the bus moves. Children are crossing the road.

When you're on the run on the road . . . Be Roadwise about school bus safety.

Back to school

Summer is over, and the local halls of learning have once again opened their doors to an influx of students.

For the tiniest tots, it is an exciting but slightly terrifying time, with so many new faces and new experiences. For the first graders, it is their first time to spend a whole day in the school environment.

For the second to sixth graders, it is kind of fun to be back with the gang again, but kind of hard to give up the fun of summer vacation.

For the seventh graders it is a move across the street to a different school, and a different atmosphere. Once again, they become the "little kids" instead of the oldest in the school.

For grades 8 to 11, it's a time of mixed emotions - good to be back with friends, great to be done with summer jobs and to be sporting new clothes, but rather a grind to get down to the serious studying again.

For the twelfth graders, it's a bittersweet time, "going back" for the last time. This is the year memories will be made, the hardest studying done, the most important examinations passed.

For some of those who made up the Class of '86, it's another new beginning, as they head off to college, university or technical schools, meeting another new crop of friends and learning how to live away from one's family for the first time.

For the teachers, it's back to a routine of bells and books and marking papers, marking the register and supervising the playground, while their ears once more become accustomed to the chatter of little voices.

For the bus drivers, it's miles and countless miles of gravel roads and highways, the same trip ten times a week, the same old admonitions to "sit down back there", and a hope that winter driving conditions are a long time in coming.

For the parents, it's peace and quiet --- and a little bit lonely.

Have a good school year, everyone!

Let us know

It's also the time of year for clubs and organizations to get underway for the coming fall and winter.

Please let us know about your group's first meeting, registration nights, etc., so we can publicize them for you. We will also try to take pictures of your new executives, and will be pleased to run news from your club throughout the year.

So -- let us know. We will be happy to let the community know about your club's doings.

ONE LAST STORY — Is read by Summer Library Aide Kris Ann Maas at the preschool library group's wind-up party which featured party hats, noisemakers, games and snacks.

A phase-out, not a drop-out

By Irene Magnusson

All my life I have been phased out of one thing after another. As all the rest of you, I was once a baby, when I held full sway of my mother's attention, had special eating privileges, and sat in a special high chair. You know what happened. Along came Number four, I was relegated to the end of the bench, had to feed myself, no one sprang to placate me if I cried. I was told to get up and try again. Phased out of babyhood.

On through life this went. I was phased out of staying home and had to join the school-going ranks. That didn't last. After a few years in the books, I got phased out of going to school and joined the help-mother-with-the-household-until-someone-wants-to-marry-you ranks. This phase was interesting. I got to chase the boys, in a way, while seeming to be oh so demure. I also got rough red dishpan hands, scrubber's knee, and a lot of practice in looking after babies and near-babies.

I didn't mind leaving this job, but the one I went to after Mr. Right Guy came along, was very much the same. Phasing into motherhood with joy and ease, I could visit my friends doing the same thing, and carry on about my little tribe with the best of them.

The next decade was not easy, but it was interesting, so many things to learn. Knitting, sewing, mending, cooking, gardening, patching. I learned how to sew moccasins, overall, coats, how to can, jam and pickle, how to stop bleeding, fights, howling. I learned which end of a cow was which, to milk, churn, butcher.

Then we went and got a farm. It took some determination, and a lot of necessity to phase me out of the housewife role and into the farmwife role. My husband had to earn a living, as well as try to make a farm out of a quarter section of raw land, so while he worked I learned to chop trees, pile and burn them, and later, how to pick roots, rocks and stumps. I learned to drive our tiny tractor, and skid logs, big stumps and big rocks.

As we acquired them, I learned how to feed pigs, chase them out of the garden and elsewhere, make fence, cut teeth, inject iron, and midwife a three hundred pound sow that thought I was stealing her litter. I only got bitten once. I could run quite fast in those years.

As years passed I was phased into being the mother of teenagers, with all the usual pains of passage, following the phasing out of being a mother of babes, all-seeing, all-doing, all-protective. There was a very long day, when the last one took his first bus to school. There was a longer day, after the first one left on the bus for her first job, to live far from home.

Over a number of years, never as a drop-out but as a phase-out, I lost my job of mother, to schools, careers, marriage. The minor job of grand-motherhood is an off and on one, easily dispensed with in favor of friends and playmates by the grandchildren.

My farm wife-helping-out career became full time farmer, with truck driving, tractor work, machine repair, learning about and using fertilizers, weed sprays, grain varieties, operating a dairy barn, a hog barn, untold miles of fencing. I made bundles, learned - with only faint cooperation of my muscles - how to stook them, how to stack them, how to feed them. I made square bales, hauled them, stacked them - yes, and fed them, too. I also learned how to shovel and haul away the residue.

Together my farmer and I did what had to be done, to make a farm, to keep it afloat, to feed and care for our kids and ourselves. We enjoyed it all. We even had time to enjoy the skies and clouds, the birds and flowers. We fished the lakes and plied our boat, and spent happy days together, loving our land and each other, and the passing of the days.

The phase out of my farming days began when my husband had his first heart attack. The dairy cattle went, followed over a few years by the brood sows, then the feeder hogs, lastly the feeder cattle. Bigger machinery and more time on the land meant less need for my services. Slowly my farming tasks dwindled, to hauling an occasional load of grain, or cleaning out a granary, or perhaps 'go-foring' a machine part now and then. I had become redundant.

I was phased out of being a wife two years ago, when my beloved passed away. I believe I can truthfully say I was never a drop out wife. This writing career I started some years ago has not been too successful, and perhaps it has been phased out, too. So far, I have not deliberately quit anything I started - I've just been phased out. One wonders when the next phase out will be?

THANKS A LOT — Beryl Brett of the Elk Point Municipal Library Board presents summer staff member Kris Ann Maas with a bonus for her excellent work with young library patrons.

THE HILLEBRAND FAMILY — Gathered to celebrate the 25th Anniversary of Ed and Ella Hillebrand at an enjoyable party at Ferguson Flats Community Hall.

Out our way

By Mildred Dunham
Ferguson Flats Correspondent

With the sunny weather we've been having, the farmers are all busy with a combination of haying, swathing and combining. Ferguson Flats has been trying to make up for lost time with a number of activities.

I heard that Olive Nelson's sale went over quite well, also Debbie Kummert's shower. The anniversary party for Ed and Ella Hillebrand was very entertaining. Along with a nice lunch, the community put on a little local entertainment. One item was an amusing skit which was a mock hillbilly wedding that was their version of what might have taken place twenty-five years ago.

Out Primrose way, Clarence MacDonald of Calgary and his three little girls Kerri, Lori and Julie came out to visit in a private plane which he landed out at the Elk Point Airport after flying over our farm.

Dewberry News Roundup

By Cliff Cunningham
Dewberry Correspondent

The Dewberry Mini Fair was held on August 16 with a good crowd turning out. There were exhibits in the hall and arena and lunch was sold in the curling rink. The vegetables were better than expected and there was a large display of flowers of all kinds as well as many more things to look at.

Here are some of the prize winners and donors. Most points in homemaking donated by Greenlawn Goodwill Club won by Eileen Frey. Horticulture donated by Dewberry Woodworks won by June Fanthorpe. Eileen Frey won the most points in Horticulture as a club member. Eileen Frey also won the most points as adult exhibitor, prize donated by Credit Union. Junior exhibits with most points, donated by Riverton Ladies Club won by Karen Hiltz.

Best quilt prize won by Effie Matheson donated by Dennill's

Garage, overall pet show winners were Clint Garnier and Aaron Jennifer Hansen. Most points in adult hobby crafts Lynn Blacklock and Junior, Twila Smith and Cote Trach, donated by Neal Jones. Junior horticulture, donated by Horticulture won by Karen Hiltz. Homemaking - 10 and under Marilyn Holman. 16 and under Karen Hiltz. Junior Sewing, Crissie Trach.

At the pet show there were cages of cats, kittens, rabbits, chickens and birds, judged by Iris Hodgson. There were only four dogs entered in different classes. The dog food was donated by Ron Walker, the manager of the Co-op Store in Dewberry and the fastest eating dog was "Duke", a golden lab, shown by Ashley and Andrew Larson. The Better Buy Alberta draws were won by Emma Wolk and Annie Dennill of Dewberry and the food hamper was won by Roy Finlay of Vermilion. If I missed any winners let me know. Thanks to all those who helped to put on the Dewberry Horticulture and Agricultural Mini Fair.

I walked down town on the morning of August 21 and there weren't any flags left up on any of the buildings in Dewberry. I don't think they flew away by themselves.

We have new neighbors across the street. Welcome to Dewberry's Perry and Gladys Watts and daughter Chriss.

Bobby Braithwaite and John Anderson went with Herb Spicer by plane to Christiana Lake on a fishing trip last week. Connie and Cal Rousk's wedding supper and dance was in the Dewberry Hall August 23 with a large crowd turning out to wish them many happy years of married life. Connie is a daughter of Meridith and Lorraine Whiteside. 200 sat down for supper and a lot more came after supper.

The Dewberry and District Ladies Birthday Club Party was held on August 20 at Margaret Mergle's home. Not many turned out as there are a lot of other things going on at this time of the year. Most women are canning fruits and vegetables, also putting some in the freezer at this time of the year.

Win. Curtis is home now after spending a few days in Edmonton and Vermilion hospitals. There are crews working in different places in Dewberry: one at the new Co-op store lots, another at the U.F.A. Petroleum lots at the east side of town. They have new tanks up and are running the cement today (August 25) for the office and storage sheds.

Snelgrove's Construction is installing sewer and water lines or pipes on two different new streets in the northwest part of Dewberry. The main streets are being torn up and redone also.

Meridith Whiteside is the new U.F.A. oil and gas agent taking over from Neal Jones.

Our weather has been both hot and cool this last week with some frost on August 22, cold winds these last couple of days. It was real chilly at the Vermilion rodeo and chuckwagon races Sunday afternoon and evening August 24.

EDITOR'S NOTE — The following Dewberry news, slated for the August 6 issue somehow was mislaid and just turned up now - sorry Cliff.

AUGUST 6/86

I didn't get the Dewberry news written out in time for this week's news July 20th to 26th as I went on a bus tour to Rocky Mountain House and Leslieville Antique Days with Sharkey's Bus from Heinsburg. There were 20 or more and some children on the bus and we all had a nice trip. I was the only one from Dewberry.

On our way home from Rocky Mountain House we stopped at the Ukrainian Village. I never knew it was so large and had so many things to look at.

There were so many things going on last weekend, you could not take them all in. We went to the first day of the Vermilion Fair. The parade at the Vermilion Fair was really good this year. Several from Dewberry went to the Marwayne parade, homecoming and sports day.

Jim and Myrtle Elliott presented the senior citizens with a lovely clock in the form of a log house, made in Victoria, B.C. Come to our Drop-In Centre and take a look at it.

John and Melie Maltais are back from a trip to the U.S.A. How about giving me a write-up about your trip Melie.

We got word that one of Buddy Bensmiller's outriders, Randy Evans of Lloydminster, was killed in a chuckwagon race at Cheyenne Wyoming. We are all in sympathy with his relatives and friends. There are more accidents at chuckwagon races this year than any year that I can remember.

Esso celebrates grand opening

Congratulations to Elk Point

On Their Grand Opening
FROM

EDMONTON

Karen and Tad Reed and staff celebrated the Grand Opening of Elk Point Esso over the holiday weekend, with numerous motorists stopping by to gas up, enter the draws and congratulate the new management.

Business was brisk, with a number of customers lucky enough to be on hand when Karen's alarm clock signalled that it was time for gift certificate giveaways.

Harold Hickie of Elk Point was the lucky winner of the major door prize, a 14 inch color television. Ghetto blasters were won by Wayne Hooper of Vermilion and Roger Smith of Elk Point, while Robert Hickie of Elk Point, won a wrench set donated by SPAID Automotive.

Best wishes for a very successful future to the Reeds in their new business.

READY TO SERVE — Elk Point Esso staff members Michael Lucas, Sandy Smith, Tad Reed (with junior trainee Rhody Reed) and Danny Walchuk are ready to gas up your vehicle, change the oil or do minor or major mechanical repairs.

Farm Debt Review Act proclaimed

By Don Mazankowski
M.P. House of Commons

Farmers facing insolvency will be able to get help through federal legislation, proclaimed on August 5, that sets up a process of review of their financial situation.

The legislation will establish review boards, one in each province, and provide for a 30-day stay of legal proceedings on behalf of financially troubled farmers, thus preventing any foreclosure action. The new law also provides for extensions of the stay for three further 30-day periods, if necessary.

Mazankowski said, "The aim is to assist as many farmers as possible to remain in business. Hopefully, those in severe financial difficulties will benefit from this legislation."

Panels will be established to review each applying farmer's situation and explore alternative arrangements with creditors. Any negotiated settlement becomes legally binding. Boards and panels will include farmers and farm management specialists.

The law also requires secured creditors to give farmers 15 business days' notice of an action being taken against them.

The Minister of Agriculture has said that the moratorium on all Farm Credit Corporation foreclosure actions, which was put into place last September, will remain in effect until the farm debt review boards are fully operating and the Canadian Rural Transition Program has been introduced.

Application forms will be available from regional development offices of Agriculture Canada and the local FCC offices. Up to 8,000 farmers could benefit during the next two years from the review board process.

Slowpitch calls it a summer

Elk Point's Summer Slowpitch league drew to a close last Wednesday, with the Oryschuk Lions defeating the Tarsands sTeam Cleaners in the hard fought final game.

Twelve teams made up the league, which started its schedule during the first week of July.

During the first round of playoff action, the Spring League champion Smurfs were defeated by the Tarsands team, while the Spring League runners-up, Squeeze Play, defeated B & R. The Oryschuk Lions won over the Leeway team, and E-Can over Video Point.

During the second round of playoffs, it was Tarsands over Squeeze Play and the Lions over E-Can.

League organizer Jack Tarnowsky felt the season was "very successful — everyone had a good time" and wished to extend thanks to all those who helped, to all the ball players for taking part, to Pat Vincent for umpiring the finals and to Jack MacKay for his assistance with the league.

The ball players, in their turn, expressed warm appreciation to Tarnowsky for his efforts over the summer. Tarnowsky is leaving Elk Point in the near future as a result of an employment transfer, and will be sorely missed for his enthusiastic involvement with local sports.

Clandonald News

By Shirley Osinchuk
Clandonald Correspondent

The weather is staying sunny and hot and harvesting has begun. School will also have started for all our students by time of printing. Those two subjects will be taking most of our time for a while so "News" columns will be short.

Congratulations to Shelly and Dale

Cusack who have a new son, Randy Lawrence, born Aug. 19. Randy's proud grandparents are Donna and Bob Oram of Dewberry and Bill Cusack (and sadly missed grandmother, Yvonne) of Clandonald.

Church times for September are 11 a.m. on Sept. 7 and 21, and 9 a.m. on Sept. 14 and 28 in the Catholic Church. At the Bible Fellowship Church, Sunday services will be at 11 a.m. each week.

Sometime Wednesday night or early Thursday morning, someone broke into Frank's Shell and K.E.L. Mechanical and stole the money in the cash registers and pop machines.

Congratulations to Marge and Cliff Cunningham who lived and worked in our community for many years. In recent months they have celebrated a 75th birthday, 50th anniversary and 80th birthday. 1986 is a year to remember for them. On Saturday, Aug. 30, they celebrated in Dewberry Hall with many friends. We all wish you many more happy years, Marge and Cliff.

I would appreciate club presidents or representatives, letting me know in advance when regular meetings will be starting.

Men may be smarter than women, but you never see a woman marry a dumb man just because he has a good figure.

WEDDING ANNOUNCEMENT

Barbara May Fulton and Kevin William Nelson

Along with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Fulton and Mr. and Mrs. William Nelson, invite you to share in the joy of the beginning of their new life together when they exchange marriage vows on Saturday, September 6th, 1986 at 2:00 p.m. Bethel Lutheran Church, Lea Park, Alberta. Open house at 8:00 p.m. and dance to follow in the Dewberry Hall, Dewberry, Alta. Friends and relatives, please accept this as your invitation.

Cunninghams celebrate golden wedding, 80th and 75th birthday

By Shirley Osinchuk

Marge and Cliff Cunningham who moved to Dewberry from Clandonald several years ago, have had a year to celebrate. Recently, Marge had her 75th birthday, Marge and Cliff had their 50th wedding anniversary, and then Cliff had his 80th birthday. On Saturday they entertained well over one hundred friends and relatives in the Dewberry hall to celebrate these events.

The Dewberry Lion L's served the potluck supper, and later, a midnight lunch.

John Anderson acted as Master of Ceremonies. He thanked the Lion L's and introduced the Head Table. Anderson then introduced Mrs. Maudie Wallington, who is a regular correspondent with the Vermilion Standard. Mrs. Wallington kept everyone laughing during her recital of "My First Ball Game", and "My Get Up and Go Has Got Up and Went".

Vicki Brooker, editor of the Lakeland Review, presented a gift to Cliff from the staff at the newspaper. Cliff says he wishes to retire as correspondent when someone can be found to write the "Dewberry News Roundup".

Marge and Cliff spoke briefly expressing welcome to all their guests.

Audrey Rainey, Marge and Cliff's niece, sang "Happy Birthday", "Father's Hands" and "My Best Friend", accompanied by Mathilda Jones on the guitar.

The band, "The Dads and Sons", from Lloydminster played old-time dances, enjoyed by all. Cliff was even caught doing a step-dance, but quit before the cameras could catch him.

Other guests arrived for the evening from the Dewberry area. Some of the addresses in the guest book were: La Glace, Fort Saskatchewan, St. Albert, Edmonton, Clandonald, Riverton, Landonville, Dewberry, Lindbergh, and Heinsburg.

Best wishes for many more happy years Marge and Cliff. I'm looking forward to your party in 1996.

Shirley & Cliff - 1966

LONG-TIME FRIENDS — Clandonald correspondent Shirley Osinchuk and Dewberry correspondent Cliff Cunningham are friends of long-standing. Above, they are shown at a community gathering in the summer of 1966, while at left, they got together for a picture at the Cunningham's party last weekend. In both cases, they have swapped shoes for the photos!!

LOTS TO CELEBRATE — Marge and Cliff Cunningham celebrated their Golden Wedding, his 80th birthday and her 75th birthday with a party for family and friends last weekend.

Moving toward a new beginning

As Baby Boomers reach — and pass — the age of 40, their parents move inexorably into old age. And, looming in the background, is the inevitable aging of the Baby Boomers themselves. Projections show that in 20 years there will be 136,510 more elderly people in Alberta than there were in 1981. In fact, by the year 2006 those over 65 will probably represent 43% of the population. And the Baby Boomers won't yet have reached that age. Imagine the number of elderly there will be when they do! It's only 35 years away.

The lifestyle changes older people face, mean drastic changes in the way we currently deal with aging. For example, health delivery will focus more and more on the problems of the elderly; home care will be extended; seniors' housing projects will burgeon; and, increasingly, seniors themselves will have to take part in planning the programs that affect them.

For some time, agencies involved with the aged have known these things. The questions have been: Are people prepared to enter old age? What are their needs? Are they willing to make the unavoidable adjustments? Must they give up control of their lives? What do they expect from society? How can society help them?

In 1985, a study was undertaken to discover current and future needs and aspirations of the age group over 65. Although confined to the territory served by the Peace River Health Unit, the study's implications are important to the rest of the North as well. Thirty three organizations work with the elderly in this area and these range from Friendship Centres to Legal Aid to Alberta Culture.

What came out of this study? More than can be addressed here, but one important finding was that people are largely unprepared for old age.

Most have difficulty in coping with the losses connected with aging: loss of spouse, loss of family, loss of friends, loss of status, loss of adequate income, loss of independence, loss of meaningful work, loss of physical capability, and on and on.

The problems connected to loss manifest themselves in a myriad of ways. For example, as they resist the surrender of independence, many are slow to seek help of any kind from society or from family. They want to stay in their own homes long after they need griprails in the bathroom and reaching aids in the kitchen. Clearly subsidized domestic and handyman services have an enlarged place in future programming.

Loss of friends and family through death or relocation poses another problem. Senior citizens are often lonely and/or depressed. Some of them are at-risk because they are alone. Yet, many of these same seniors do not wish to enter communal housing programs set up specifically for them. They don't want to lose their privacy, or to move to a new and strange town, or to give up receiving and entertaining company. 'Adopt-a-grandparent' or 'buddy' systems could help in these instances as could any other type of visiting program. Senior citizens want very much to be more gregarious. They want to go visiting and they like to have company.

Tied to the loss of status which occurs when people get old and no longer hold meaningful jobs is the sad fact that other people overlook or disregard their input. Too often, programs and services for the aged are implemented with no consultation at all from the aged themselves. As well, their expertise is usually ignored. There are many old people who are highly skilled in business, in trades, in crafts, in personal relations, in fund-raising, in volunteer work of every kind, yet they are seldom consulted and their abilities are almost never tapped. Seniors want to be involved both as volunteers and in planning programs that affect them.

So many things affect them which they cannot control and they need so many other things that they are unable to provide for themselves. As their bodies wear out, they increasingly need medical attention — sometimes specialists, and inevitably, hospitalization. But many northern seniors are threatened by big city hospitals, strange doctors, and even the travel involved to reach the city.

Doctors, themselves, it seems evident, must be prepared to deal with a patient load made up of more and more old people. Are doctors ready? Are they informed enough, not only about geriatric medicine but also about the services available to seniors? Since seniors tend to rely heavily on physicians for help and advice of every kind, these professionals will need to prepare themselves in these ways if they are to meet the expectations of their patients.

Another benefit that seniors cannot provide for themselves is transportation. As they lose income and physical ability and no longer drive cars, they discover that public transportation simply does not fill the bill even though it is sometimes the only way they can visit, stay part of the community, and maintain independence.

All the concerns and problems discussed here are compounded in the remote communities of Alberta's far North. There, things like drop-in centres, adult day-care, hospitals, public transportation, and so on, are even less accessible. As well, written materials that could help seniors to realize what services exist and how to take advantage of these, are of little use since many seniors here do not have a good command of English and many others do not read at all.

The committee that undertook the study now moves into a new stage. Several recommendations aimed at solving the dilemmas seniors find themselves in are already on paper. Several more of these deal with ways to avoid the dilemmas in the first place. The challenge now is to get the recommendations implemented. And, when that is done, perhaps society will be ready to take on the geriatric Baby Boomers come 2021.

The study, which involved 400 seniors, was sponsored by the Regional Interdisciplinary Steering Committee for Geriatric Services in the North Peace River Region and was made up of representatives from the Peace River Health Unit, the Alberta Council on Aging, Fresh Start Social Consultants, the Manning Municipal Hospital and its Board, the McLennan Hospital, the Senior Citizens Bureau, the Ministerial Association, seniors from the region and the Northern Alberta Development Council.
